NECPS Photo Contest

The NECPS and Tower Hill Botanic Garden are jointly planning to promote our 13th Annual Carnivorous Plant Show on September 10 and 11 next year. We are searching for a high resolution carnivorous plant image that will be used for our huge posters, plentiful post cards, and other media promoting the show. We are looking for a stunning carnivorous plant image to catch the attention of people and make them curious about our plants. We may plan to overlay horizontal text on up to 1/3 of the negative space on the image; so please keep this in mind for our judging criteria.

Rules:

You must own the copyright of the final image for us to use free of charge.

You may enter up to 3 hi-res (at least 300dpi) photos.

All entries to be posted online (reduced size) in the forum or sent to Alex of Tower Hill at the following e-mail alexandramoore07@gmail.com by Sunday, December 6th. The winner will be notified during the second or third week of December by private message, and posting to the NECPS forum thread.

Winner: The winning image will be selected by Tower Hill staff. The winner will have the bragging rights, honor, and pride that their image was used to become part of NECPS history as well as some NECPS promotional swag yet to be determined.

The Holiday Spirit

Here at the NECPS we were quite touched by a heartwarming letter sent to us this past November. The letter was from three employees of Faddegon's Nursery in Latham, New York; Sue, Pat, and Aimee. They wrote to us about a frequent shopper at their nursery who is fascinated by carnivorous plants. The middle school-aged boy has been routinely visiting the nursery to volunteer his time caring for their carnivorous plants over the past several years. In addition this boy is always willing to take phone calls from the nursery to help answer customers' questions related to carnivorous plant cultivation, and propagation. As a way to give this boy a big "thank you" for all that he does, the individuals listed above decided to surprise him by purchasing a 3-year NECPS membership!

*Please join us in extending a warm welcome to our newest member, Chris!

 Last but not least we would also like to welcome Sue, Pat, & Aimee from Faddegon's Nursery as Honorary Members of the NECPS. This status is being awarded for their kindness, generosity, and for encouraging an interest in these captivating plants. (pun intended!)
